I, Christopher John Lyall, Chief Inspector of Primary Produce Safety, confirm that:

Huon Aquaculture is accredited under the Tasmanian Primary Produce Safety Act 2011 and has an appropriate and approved food safety management system in place that includes listeria management.

The Department of Primary Industries, Parks, Water and Environment has undertaken inspections of Huon Aquaculture's processing facility and the Department has not found any evidence of non-compliance with the applicable Australia New Zealand Food Standards Code nor the Primary Produce Safety legislation.

Samples taken indicate that product in the market place is also compliant with the Food Standards Code.

The most recent audit of Huon Aquaculture's food safety management system found Huon Aquaculture's operations including processes, practices and procedures were compliant with the Tasmanian Primary Produce Safety (Seafood) Regulations 2014 and the Food Standards Code.
